

Conversation in Couplets

The Homework Battle

“ When are you going to do your homework, son”

“Maybe when TV basketball game gets done”

“You said that when you watched the last baseball game.”

“Just a bit more. I’ll get it done, Just the same.”

“ Before it was football. It’s same excuse all year.”

“ Oh come on, Mom, the end of school is now near.”

“ You better get your grades up before you play.”

“ Oh come on, Mom. Please, give me a break today.”

Conversation in Couplets: Created by John Henson. Syllable Count: 11 per line.
As many rhyming couplets as you want. Rhyme Scheme: a-a b-b c-c etc.