

Lannet

Hopes for My Grandchildren

What can I give you when you are not here?
No hugs, words of hopeful wisdom, advice,
unseen example or good memories.
We can email, skype, or talk long distance.

What can I say to help you live freely?
Find your own guideposts, your own path, your hopes
Free your imagination, follow dreams.
Bring your special light to a darkened world.

Cling to the good and beliefs you have found bring happiness, love and joy to others which stem from the light and love you give them stored in your curious and warming heart.

Though I am not with you, you are with me.
as you fulfill your unique destiny.

Lannet: Created by Laura Lamarca
Like a sonnet. 14 lines.
Syllable Count: 10 per line.
No end rhyme. Only internal rhyme allowed.
No requirement for iambic, pentameter or tetrameter.