

Mini-monoverse

Tripping Through the Redwoods

Oh the shoulds
and the woulds
if we coulds understood—the Redwoods.

So we go with the flow
see the show.
Now we know.
End with glow.

Passing her CHSPE: California High School Proficiency Examination at 15

Rowan passed test. Surpassed and by-passed plus out-classed class morassed.

Even more
was high score.
Sophomore—meteor metaphor.

Mini-monoverse: Created by Emily Romano.

Syllable Count: three per line. Five line stanzas.

Rhyme Scheme: a-a-a-a-a b-b-b-b-b
Can add stanzas but two stanzas for a double Mini-monoverse c-c-c-c-c d-dd-d-d.

Can tell a story but not a rule.

Catching Crab

First we bait
then we wait.
Time debate.
Pull too late.
None-our fate.

Watch the tide.
Seagulls glide.
Seals beside.
Crabs stay wide.
None inside.

So instead .
Use our head.
Leave and tread
to clam bed.
None— hopes dead.

Let's go eat
a new treat
something sweet.
Sugar's neat.
Can't be beat.

Today is Cool

As a rule
today's cool.
It's cruel and uncool
ray fuel.

It was hot.
A hot shot
on this spot.
Today's not.
Thanks a lot.