

Pollysyllabic Verse

Thanksgiving

This
giving
thanks
stint
in hang
gang
in vain?
Ting
tin
sing
it
gig?
Ska?
“Sit
kin.”
King?
Saint?
(Stank)
Tan
skin?
Thin?
Gin?
Gain
is
sin?
A
stain.
Gag.
I
tank.
Sag.
Hit
it?
Hint
at
ants?
I
Git
in
van.

Polysyllabic Verse
with internal monologue.

Halloween

“Ho!”
“Lo!”
“Hello?”
“No
woe,
Al.” “Low
hall
all
wall,
Hal”
“Law?”
“Naw”
“Who
new?”
“Allow
hallow?”
“He,
we
wean
lean
wan
lawn.”
“When
hen?”
“Nah.”
“Ha!”

Polysyllabic Verse
for two voices in Terse
Verse.

Polysyllabic Verse:

This form is made up of
words using the letters
in a polysyllabic word.

The three words in
these poems were
Thanksgiving,
Halloween and Haidan
You create a poem of
the smaller words you
can make from the
letters and only the
letters in the bigger
word.

The word you use is the title. Only one word per line. Written as a list.
You can repeat the
letters more times than
they appear in the word.

Haidan

Hi!
I
aid
hand;
hid
and
had
din.
Ha!

(after caring for an 18
month old grandson.)